

II. The Economic Impact of the Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians

The combined economic effect of the Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians Tribal and Casino activities in 2003 resulted in the direct employment of 1,912 individuals residing in Senate District 36. The Pechanga Resort and Casino payroll, tribal payroll and other payments to individuals through tribal programs totaled $114,464,281.<sup>1</sup> These wages and payments are estimated to have produced $26,555,713 in additional federal and state payroll and income taxes. In addition, the Tribe and the Pechanga Resort and Casino were responsible for the direct purchase of $19,996,934 worth of goods and services.<sup>2</sup>

In addition to the direct economic effects, tribal gaming has indirect or multiplier effects on the rest of the California economy. Employment, purchases and tax payments made by tribal casinos lead to increased business for surrounding communities and the rest of the state. Output, earnings and employment multipliers are widely used. To estimate the indirect economic impact we use the Regional Input-Output Modeling System (RIMS II) multipliers for output, wages and employment for the State of California as calculated by the Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Department of Commerce.<sup>3</sup>
